

Public Lecture

Dr. Guenther Roth

Professor of Sociology
Columbia University

"Weber, the Would-Be Englishman: Anglophilia and Family History"

Thursday, March 21, 1991

8:30 p.m.

Hall Building, Room 1070
Sir George Williams Campus
1455 de Maisonneuve Blvd. West

Professor Roth is the senior editor of the English edition of Max Weber's monumental work, Economy and Society, and is the "dean" of Weber scholars in North America.

With Reinhard Bendix he authored Scholarship and Partisanship: Essays on Max Weber (1971); and with Wolfgang Schluchter, Max Weber's Vision of History (1979).

Sponsors:

Ph.D. in Humanities Program

Loneragan University College

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology and with the support of

The Visiting Lecturers Committee

of Concordia University

in cooperation with

The Goethe - Institut, Montreal

This is the sixth and final lecture in the 1990-91 series, "The Trajectory of Modernity", sponsored by Concordia University in collaboration with the Goethe - Institut, Montreal. This series is offered in connection with the Loneragan College seminar on "The Works of Max Weber", taught with Dr. John Drysdale. This seminar examines a wide range of Weber's writings as contributions to our understanding of modernity.

For more information call: 848-2280.

Concordia
UNIVERSITY